

Matilda Effect

Denial of the contribution of women scientists first described by Matilda Joselyn Gage

Mary is a female researcher working in an interesting field. She has got relevant ideas and has obtained promising results

but it is Marc, male fellow researcher in the same field, who is going to get the credit for Mary's work.

It happened to the work of such extraordinary female scientists

Lise Meitner

Rosalind Franklin

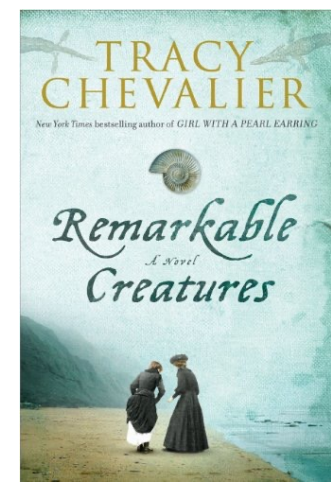

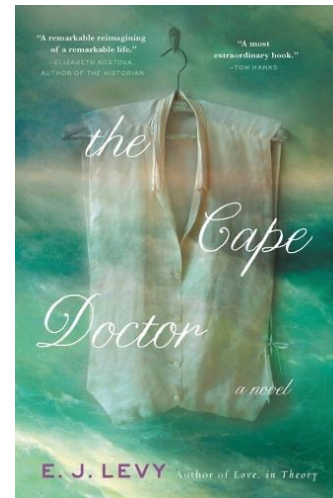

Marietta

Anglais tronc
commun:
podcasts sur
l'effet Matilda

Découverte de plusieurs femmes scientifiques britanniques

James Barry (1795-1865)

Mary Anning, 1799-1847 à Lyme Regis

Campagne soutenue par l'Europe

Lucie, Clémence,
Keila, Camille

Mileva Einstein

Romain & Vincent

Jocelyn Bell Burnell

Raphael, Samuel